Wurtland Middle school will adhere to the “Code of Conduct” of the Greenup County Board of Education. Council policies shall adhere to the rights and responsibilities of student in Board policy and provide a productive and equitable standard of decision-making for all stakeholders.

Wurtland Middle School shall have, as its framework for student behavior management, a system of Positive Behavioral Intervention and Supports (PBIS) as outlined by the Kentucky Center for Instructional Discipline (KYCID). This approach relies on evidence-based behavioral interventions into an integrated continuum, which enhances academic and social behavior outcomes for all students. Through the implementation of positive, proactive, and instructional strategies, in classroom and common areas of the school, the faculty and staff of Wurtland Middle School has a goal for students to become self-disciplined, responsible, and productive citizens of the Commonwealth.

An ad-hoc committee focused on PBIS, shall select appropriate discipline and classroom management procedures to be implemented in the school, which also meet the developmental needs of adolescents. The committee shall gather data from staff, parents, and students and report to the council recommendations for improvement. All council policies affecting student behavior will have, as their primary goal, the safety of all members of the Wurtland Middle School community.

At the beginning of each school year, every student and full time certified staff members shall receive a copy of the adopted expectations and behaviors associated with discipline and classroom management. The behavioral expectations and procedures will be part of the student agenda to be distributed at the beginning of each year. The expectations and procedures shall be communicated to parents through a variety of methods. Substitute teachers and associated staff, including building classified staff, shall be informed as to where they might readily access the procedures. Any new student or full time certified staff member shall receive a copy on their first day of school.
